THE HAYDEN SURVEY.

Arrangements and Details of the Divisions.

How to Reach the Middle Park of Colorado.

THE ROUTE DESCRIBED.

DENVER, Col., June 3, 1875. The members of the United States Geologica, and Geographical Survey have assembled at Den-Fer, and the expedition will leave on Monday, the fth of June. The working of the force is divided as follows:-

THE TRIANGULATION DIVISION. The primary triangulation division is in charge of Mr. James T. Gardner, chief topographer and geographer. Mr. Frank M. Pearson is his assistant, and Mr. C. Mills and Mr. Robert Adams, Jr., will accompany this party. Mr. Gardner will extend his primary triangulation over the entire western and southern portions of the Territory of Colorado, taking in all the section surveyed by the other parties, and embracing a tract of country, some ten miles in width, on the eastern border of Utah, and a similar belt on the north ern border of New Mexico.

The other division will finish up the allotted sections designated on the map.

THE FIRST DIVISION. The first division consists of Mr. W. H. Holmes, geologist director and artist; Mr. George B. Chittenden, topographer, and probably Mr. P. S. Brandigee, assistant topographer and botanist. Mr. Holmes takes the place of Mr. A. R. Marvine, who is prevented from accompanying the expedition this season by a severe illness. THE SECOND DIVISION.

The second division, or Grand River division, comprises the following gentlemen :- Mr. Henry Gannet, topographer directing; Mr. W. R. Atkinson, assistant topographer; Dr. A. C. Peale,

THE THIRD DIVISION. The third, or San Luis division, is in charge of Mr. A. D. Wilson, topographer directing; with Dr. F. M. Endlich, geologist, and Mr. F. Rhods, assistant topographer. The jourth division is under the direction of Mr. G. R. Bechler, topographer, with one assistant. In addition to these divisions there is a photographic party under the supervision of Mr. W. H. Jackson, photographer directing; and this brancu of the survey will proceed to the extreme southwest corner of Colorado into the San Juan country and across into Utah as far as the Colorado River. Mr. Jackson last year took the first impressions of those ancient ruins which are scattered so profusely in this sec-Along the canyon of the Mancos River especially be made this subject a specialty. This season he will visit some of the most interesting remains of a great antiquity, and it is heped that many valuable discoveries will be made in regard to the habits and domestic life of the obscure races that once inhabited this country. A supply rain will be run from point to point, meeting the parties at appointed times. Mr. Charles E. Aldrich, quartermaster and executive officer, has been appointed to fill the place of Mr. James Stevenson, resigned. Mr. A. R. Balloch will assist in the transportation of supplies.

THE NATURALISTS' DIVISION. Dr. A. S. Packard, the eminent unturalist, of Salem, Mass., will also be connected with the expedition and will take a two months' trip into the mountainous regions of Colorade about July and August, and Professor P. B. Unier, of Baltimore, will also investigate the same regions, to render nore complete the materials already in their poslession for the very elaborate reports they are preparing for the survey.

THE SECRETARY OF THE SURVEY.

Mr. J. W. Suilivan, the secretary of the survey, will be stationed in Denver, to transact all necessary home business and see to the lorwarding of mails at every opportunity. Each party will be provided with two packers and a cook, with also the necessary saddle and pack animals. it is proposed to start out in a body, traveiling together probably as far south as Colorado Springs. from which point the several divisions will branch off in different directions. The expedition will remain in the field until the middle of October or first of November.

It will be the aim of the Henald to publish as A UCTION.

Set Hudson stre-It will be the aim of the HERALD to publish as sults of the expedition, together with interesting adventures which are experienced by its members, and all the discoveries among the rains of Southern Colorado and New Mexico will be given in rail from time to time, depending for their regularity, however, upon the accessibility of the THE MIDDLE PARK OF COLORADO.

In order to reach the Middle Park of Colorado, starting from Denver with a pack train, the best plan is to take a westerly course, passing through Golden City (the former capital of the Territory), and following the well-beaten trail which leads over the bills, parallel to Clear Creek. This brings the equestrian to Idaho Springs, a small town situated about forty miles from Denver, in the situated about forty miles from Denver, in the valley of Clear Creek, and surrounded by magnificent mountain scenery. The place is noted for its astural hot springs, and is rapidly becoming a popular and noted summer resert, especially for invalids and those afflicted with chronic diseases. The waters contain in different proportions sods, line, magnesia and from and oathing sources are fitted up in the most comfortable man ser for the use of visitors. This was one of the first mining settlements in the country, and from its foundation it has been steadily and rapidly growing. Leaving lidable the trail runs in a general northwestern direction through the mining village of Empire, and from there over the snowy range of the Rocky Mountains by way of Berthoud Pass. Through this pass middle Park is seached, and in the interior of this, soout twenty, miles from the terminus of the sease. He tale hot Sulphur Springs, which are destined shortly to be among the most requented of the many medicinal syrings of Colprado. The water emerges from the rocks at a temperature of 111 degrees, Pahrenheit, and is collected into an artificial reservoir, which has been roused over for bathing purposes by Mr. W. N. Spers, prophesor of the Rocky Mountain News. Rere the water can be utilized at a temperature of 112 degrees. It is strongly saturated with hippur and contains some magnesia and from it is highly medicinal and held in great esteem by the Indians that frequent this section. In this pot, elevated 8,000 leet above the level of the sea, close to the swift nowing waters of the Grand River, surrounded by the ladians that frequent this section. In this pot, elevated 8,000 leet above the level of the sea, close to the swift nowing waters of the Grand River, surrounded by and remain amid some of the best natural advantages to be enjoyed anywhere in the great mountains range. A lew sontered log houses, a hotel and two or three stores are all that form the town of thot Sulphur Springs; but Judging from the apid settlement of this very valley of Clear Creek, and surrounded by magnifi-the traveler is carried five miles by stage to idaho.

Inis road presents one of the most daring and tallis road presents one of the most daring and tallis pieces of engineering to be seen in the sountry. Just beyond Golden (fitteen miles from peaver) it enters the mouth of cient Creek canron, one of the grandest and most be autitui chasms in the Rocky Monnains; and creeping and winding fautionally up the neavily graced way the ministrate train penetrates farther and farther into the tearts of the mountains, now cleaving a path between two towering peaks or turning asruptly into some avenue or supero beauty. The mountains rise perpendicularity on either side for incusands of feet, and the infatuated besoider finds himself unconsciously wonder. By how and where he will ever emerge from this wonderful labyrinth of perpendicular walls. At every lew hundred feet the road makes some moden twist, and a mighty precipice rears itself lifectly should. As it is approached the train winds studently into some unseen outlet, and the spectator is constantly surprised by being carried hate some new and unsuspected cummel. The waters of Clear Creek dash down the rocks along the bottom of the cunton, which in some places is so narrow that an embankment has been thrown but into the stream in order to form a basis for the laying of the track. In such places the rocks jut out almost to the windows of the passing carry, and in others the waits have been cut away to make foom for the rais a ong the narrow ledge. From Solden to Floys Hill, which is 7,100 leet above the senses, a distance of one eighteen niles, the road astends, a distance of one eighteen niles, the road astends, $2,00 feet. This road was enaineered by Mr. E. L. Bershood, of Golden city. Another road has been surveyed and staked out by him, which is to connect with this and run over the Berthond Pass to the Hot Springs. Middle Park has been the most accessible thorongulare through which the survey has passed in repairing to the western portion of the Territory. It is generally entered through Berthond Pass on the line of the prospective railroad. This park comprises a track of mountain, forest and level country, the area of which is about fifty by seventy miles. It has been thorongally worked up by the United States Geological Survey and many objects of interest and scientific value have been discoveres. At the Hot Springs, in a hill composed of white saudatione, great quantities of the impressions of leaves have been found, as also a lew fossil fishes, while a half inflie east of this, from one of the high bottes, very perfect specimens of ammonites have been taken. These have served to determine the geological age of the rock formation. The conchologist will find on the low hims of Middle Park vast quantities of the Helix Coopert, which seem to have abounded in countless myriads at some past time. So abundant are they in some spots that they resemble thicklystrewn hallstones and can be scooped together by the quart. But these specimens are all weather beaten and bleached by the sun. It is only in the cool, damp, rank underbrush along the banks of streams that this intrests of Colorado's helices can be found in a living state. The Territory presents a great poverty in the larger iresh water and land shells, especially the union, which have never been found here; but new species of the more minute genera are being constantly brought to light. The fauna and Anox of this rich and interesting tract will be more carefully studied this year by the naturalists connected with the expedition, and there is no doubt that from the almost limities material which is presented numerous strange species and possibly new genera will be given to the scientific world.
